Barrymore And Barry Are Booked At Torrance Theatre This Week

Wesley Barry in "GEORGE WASHINGTON JR." A WARNER BROS. Classic of the Screen

Hailed as one of the best productions of the year, Warner Brothers' "Beau Brummel," starring the great John Barrymore, will be shown at the Torrance theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, May 20 and 21. No theatregoer needs an introduction to any of the Barrymores, nor to the great story on which this moving picture is built. On Thursday and Friday Richard Dix, Lois Wilson and Marjorie Daw will be seen at the Torrance theatre in Zane Grey's "The Call of the Canyon." This picture has enjoyed unusual patronage in the metropolitan centers of the east and is heralded as one of Paramount's best. Next Saturday the always welcome Wesley Barry in "George Washington Jr." will be featured at the Torrance theatre. The film is a rollicking, entertaining feature.

Club Women Enter Protest Against 'Speed-Race' in Residence District

Declaring that speeders violate the law in the residence district of the city and that the violations are especially noticeable between the hours of 3:45 and 4:30 p. m., the Woman's club of Torrance, in a letter signed by Emma M. Briney, Monday called attention of the board of trustees to the violations. The letter declared that men employed in Torrance, but living out of town, engage in a "race" to lead the procession through the residence district.
 The letter pointed out that the enforcement of traffic laws in the outlying district by the police department is of no more importance than their enforcement in the residence district.
 The letter was referred to Trustee J. S. Torrance, chairman of the police committee.

BUSINESS MEN BOOM GREATER L. A. CAMPAIGN

Board of Supervisors of Orange County Endorse It, Too.

LOS ANGELES.—Added support to the Greater Los Angeles association in its campaign for industrial development is being given daily by civic and commercial organizations, both in Los Angeles and throughout the Greater Los Angeles area. Yesterday the Mutual Business Men's association, composed of a hundred leading business men of the city, at its weekly luncheon at the City club, gave hearty endorsement to the Greater Los Angeles association and instructed its finance committee to take a membership in the association for each member of the club.
 Recently the board of supervisors of Orange county passed the following resolution, after taking 40 memberships in the association for the county:
 "The attention of this board of supervisors having been called to the aims and purposes of the Greater Los Angeles association, recently organized in that city, and it appearing to the members of this board that the operation of such an organization, directed by able and influential men, will probably produce greater practical, substantial and beneficial results than any organization ever established, and it also appearing that the parties who have initiated this organization are eminently qualified to finance and manage such an association so as to secure the greatest and most permanent beneficial results;
 "Now, therefore, this board of supervisors hereby emphatically endorses the Greater Los Angeles association, and the members of this board declare their full confidence in the officers and managers of said association; also that the same will be of great benefit to the harbor possibilities of this county."
